Wow! What a long half-term this has been! It was wonderful standing on the gate this morning and seeing the fantastic array of costumes and face paint as the children all arrived. Some of them looked truly scary!

All of the children have settled well into their classes, and when I reflect on the last seven and a half weeks, it is amazing just how much they have fitted into, and alongside, their learning. Class One have made a great start to their time at Kimbolton, getting to know their school and exploring their outdoor area. Class Two had a super visit to Ludlow Castle, children from Classes Three and Four have represented the school at The School Games in Hereford and Class Four held a French Café. In addition to this, we held our Harvest Service at St. James' Church and have hosted visitors for a Fair Trade morning in school.

I was very proud to accompany Miss Blount and two of our former Year 6 children to Whitecross High School to receive the Gold School Games Award on Monday. This reflects all of the events that children from Kimbolton have participated in over the last year, and also the sporting excellence shown. Well done everyone!

As always, a huge thank you to you all for your ongoing support. Have a great half-term and we look forward to welcoming you back on Monday 4th November.

Best wishes,

Mrs Hyde

We will be giving parents the opportunity to enjoy some child-free browsing with the book fair opening from 2.45pm each day. It will stay open until 3.30pm so the children can visit at the end of the school day with parents also.

Each class will visit the book fair on the afternoon of Friday 24th November where they will have the opportunity to create a wish-list to take home.

You will be able to purchase books using cash, pre-purchased vouchers or online via a QR code. If you intend to purchase with the online payment you will need to have a mobile phone with you in order to scan the code and complete payment. With the signal in and around school quite poor, we suggest using the pre-payment vouchers from the Scholastic website, please see the link below.
